CLASS HISTORY

As the years roll on in the march of time,
Each little thought and each little line
That's written now, in these years the best,
Shall be a part of my treasure chest.

So before you read, I think you ought
To give this history a thought.
Make it happy or make it gay!
In later years of you I'll say,
"Here are my friends---I know them well,
Who have made this book---in my memory dwell!"

Gee Whiz! 1953 so soon. Why it seems only a few years ago that our class of nineteen pupils walked very timidly into the first grade room. Remember, class, how anxious and still a little bit frightened we were to find out what was going on? With the help of a very understanding teacher such as Mrs. Ilo Harshman we soon learned our A B C's and were passed into the second grade. I don't think we will ever forget them, do you class?

In the second grade we were only too glad to have the same teacher but sorry to lose two of our pupils which were Carolyn Pruitt, and Junior Fox. Our loss was regained when Harold Plaugher, Lloyd White, James Dershem, Shirley Engle, and Charles Brown entered our grade. I guess by the end of the year, Mrs. Harshman was glad to pass us on to another grade. Who wouldn't be after having us for two whole years?

Next comes the third grade and with it came a new teacher whose name was Miss Helen Hall. We also had three new students who were Joan Beery, Budd Dawson, and Gene Tippie. My, how our grade seemed to grow! With the help of our new teacher, we soon learned to know each other and got along just fine.

Our fourth grade teacher was Miss Donna Jean Stevely, (and she was sure pretty.) The new members were Joetta Sherrick, Peggy Taylor, Byron Schumaker, George Bailey and George Guv. That year passed quickly and all of us were ready for an advancement to the next grade.

HISTORY (Continued)

Marilyn Montgomery, Neil Armstrong, Barbara Long, and Freddy Hubbard joined us in the fifth grade. So I guess we weren't the only ones who had to get used to the hard lessons. However, Miss Stevely was still our teacher so we seemed to understand them a little better.

Mrs. Yvonne Wauben was in charge of the sixth grade and she had an awful time preparing us to go up stairs into the seventh grade. Our class mate Marilyn Mault moved but Donna Gilmore, James Ritchie and Robert Konst didn't let our number decrease.

Boy, what a time we had in the seventh grade! Every one was either late to class or else in the wrong room. The first few weeks were sure mixed up until we got used to where we belonged. Bernard Valenti moved and Jack R. Howell, Richard Parlette, Leroy McFarland, and Jack L. Howell were the new ones that now belonged to our grade.

Our friend Marilyn Mault came back to join us in the eighth grade and we hope she stays this time. Phillip Morgan, Glenna Wilson, and Gene Stevens also were new in our room. Gosh, I almost forgot one student who had moved away but finally came back. This happened to be Bernard Valenti who was last but not least. Our home room teacher was a very nice teacher by the name of Mrs. Ada Aldrich.

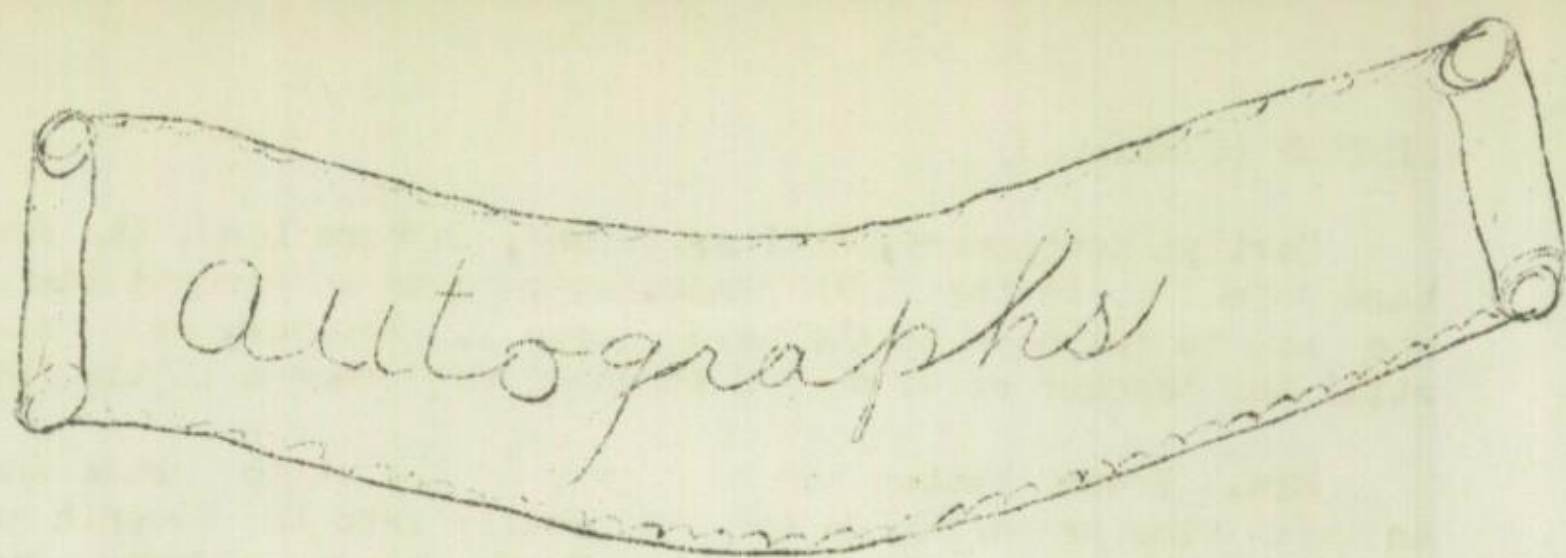

Freshman Initiation! Remember, class, how the girls had to wear long underwear and clod-hoppers and the boys had to wear girls' clothes and a lot of make up? It sure was a lot of fun although we were scared that the Seniors were going to hurt us on initiation night. Our home room teacher, Eugene Basinger, enjoyed looking at our clothes and we think he was a good sport as well as a good teacher.

Here we were Sophomores already and we presented our first class play. The name of it was, "Off the Track" and we had more enjoyment out of going to play practice than going to school. Two new members which joined us in the tenth grade were Jack Bair, and Dolores Ohr and Mrs. Cumming was also our new home room teacher.

Juniors! My, that sounded good to us because at last we were finally going to get our class rings. Our teacher, Mrs. Alice Cox helped us solve our problems which seemed so difficult at the time. Maybe some day we will be able to thank her for helping us. Our eleventh grade ended with the Junior Senior Prom which was held at the Argonne Hotel. I think every one had a lovely time and will never forget it.

Graduation is almost here and some of us are already wishing that we were only Freshmen. We have been trying to produce an annual with the help of Mrs. Dupler and thanks to her we have. For twelve long years the following people have been going to school together: Jean Thomas, Jim Crouse, Ronny Spyker, and Betty Morris. A new pupil, Sharon Brandon, who moved here from Central will have the pleasure of graduating with us. Mr. Durbin was our patient home room teacher and we appreciate it.

PROPHECY

August 24, 1963

Ten years have passed very quickly. In those ten years I have prepared myself to be a teacher and have taught for three-years in Chicago. Now I am on my way to Arizona. I will become the new second grade teacher at one of the grade schools. It isn't too large a school I don't know the reason for my choosing Arizona. I guess it's just that I like the warmth and sunshine.

As I am riding on this tiresome Greyhound, my thoughts keep drifting back to my high school days at Cradersville. It doesn't seem as though I have been away from all my old school mates this long. I recall one day before I started this trip. I was in Lima. While I was there I ran into Joan Beery. She is married now, has a beautiful home and a little boy three years old. It was good talking to Joan again. I was surprised when Joan told me that ~~John~~ ~~Lowry~~ ~~whos~~ ~~now~~ Mrs. Gordon Boyd, was living in Arizona. Seems that her husband is manager of one of the leading department stores in Tucson. Maybe I will run into them.

When my bus pulled into Memphis for a forty five minute lay over, I took a few minutes and went to the restaurant across from the bus depot to get a bite of lunch. As I sat down at the table to which I had been directed, for as I glanced across the room, there in her beautiful white nurses dress sat one of my classmates, Marilyn Montgomery. Immediately I went over. She, too, was quite surprised. I guess my dream wasn't the only one to come true. Marilyn had always wanted to be a nurse. She too, had reached her goal. I had never expected to see her in Memphis. She told me all about the hospital in which she was working. We didn't have too much time to talk, but she did tell me that Betty Morris was working in the telephone office in Lima as a secretary. She also told me that while she was vacationing in New York she ran into Jean Thomas. Jean is now a beauty operator in one of the largest beauty shoppe's there. She also told me that Marilyn Maule was married now and has a lovely four year old daughter. Her name now is Snyder.

My forty five minutes didn't last nearly long enough. We were having a very nice time reminiscing when once again it was time for me to board my bus and be off. It surely was good as well as surprising to see and chat with Marilyn again. I wonder how long it will be until we can get together again.

My journey has been pretty tiresome not having anyone you know on the same bus. I am not too alone though. The old gray haired lady seated beside me is quite talkative.

My bus is pulling into a gas station now. Guess I'll get out and stretch my legs a bit. Well, as I look across the street I see a very familiar name. It is Konst. I see this name on a sign which reads Konst Garage, Bob Konst Proprietor. Another ambition completed. I wish my bus was not ready to leave already so I would have a chance to talk to Bob. I wonder why Bob choose Texas as the place to start his business. I guess maybe it's for the same reason I choose to teach clear down in Arizona.

Well, the trip won't be too long now! I think I'll just read this magazine that I bought at my last stop. As I turned the page I glanced at an advertisement about large Super-markets. The reason it interests me so is because it gives the story of the owner of these chain stores. The name is Jim Crouse, Jim was an old school mate of mine. He certainly has done well for himself. I would like to see Jim so I could talk to him and congratulate him on his success.

I saw a billboard a few miles back which reminded me of two more of my school mates. Those two were Bernard Valenti and Ronny Spyker. The billboard read "Join The Army Now." "Uncle Sam needs you." Bernard and Ronny had planned on going into the service after they graduated. I suppose they are of the highest rank by now.

I certainly have had a most surprising trip. I have talked to some of my old school chums and heard about the others. It surely has been nice.

My trip is almost at an end for we are now pulling into Tucson. In a few minutes I will be off this bus, but what I thought was going to be a tiresome trip turned out to be very nice and very, very surprising.

ALL HAIL THE POWER OF JESUS' NAME

All hail the power of Jesus' name! Let angels prostrate fall;
Bring forth the royal diadem, And Crown Him Lord of all,
Bring forth the royal diadem, And Crown Him Lord of all.

Ye Seed of Israel's chosen race, Ye ransomed of the fall;
Hail Him, who save you by His grace, And Crown Him Lord of all,
Hail Him, who save you by His grace, And Crown Him Lord of all.

Sinners, whose love can ne'er forget The wormwood and the gall;
Go, Spread your trophies at His feet, And Crown Him Lord of all;
Go, Spread your trophies at His feet, And Crown Him Lord of all.

O that with yonder sacred throng, we at His feet may fall;
We'll join the everlasting song, And Crown Him Lord of all,
We'll join the everlasting song, And Crown Him Lord of all.

HOW THE DAY IS OVER

Now the day is over, Night is drawing nigh;
Shadows of the evening Steal across the sky.

Jesus, give the weary Calm and sweet repose;
With Thy tenderest blessing May our eyelids close.

Comfort every sufferer watching late in pain;
Those who plan some evil From their sins restrain.

Amen.

SEN--SOPH. PLAY

"Hobgoblin House" a mystery-comedy was presented May 7 and 8. The play centers around Miss Priscilla Carter (Marilyn Montgomery) who, disgusted because her nieces, Marion (Mary Bayliff) and Jill (Gretchen Wolfe) have fallen in love with Frank Harlow (Ronny Spyker) and Jack Loring (Bernie Valenti), purchases Hobgood House in the Ozark foothills and here plans a secret retreat where the girls shall not see the boys for six months on penalty of being disinherited. Priscilla arrives on the night Bluebeard Bronson (Darrell Chapman), who once committed a murder in the house, is supposed to revisit the scene of his crime. Does he return? Well, the caretaker of the house Darius Krupp (Harvey Kiser) and Bill Wilkins (Jim Crouse) a penitentiary guard frighten Prissy's servants (Karen Plapp, Sharon Brandon, and Don Bambauer) into believing in ghostly happenings. Finally, Patricia Arnold (Joan Butterfield) who was being held captive by Krupp, Bronson, and Wilkins for ransom, escapes and reveals the mysteries surrounding "Hobgoblin House."

Mrs. David Cox directed the production assisted by Marlene Mayer, Jim Crouse, Jim Roser, Prompters; stage Manager Roser, Bambauer, Kiser, Crouse, and Chapman.

JUNIOR PLAY

"A Ready Made Family," Presented Friday, November 7, 1952, was the story of a widow, Agnes Martin (Marna Deifendeifer) and a widower, Henry Turner (Ron Mooney), who had been sweethearts in their younger days but each had married someone else. Agnes had three children: Bob (Jim Conner), Marilee, (Carol Keller), and Gracie (Shirley Parlette). To her household also belonged her husband's maiden sister, Lydia (Sue Corson) who couldn't realize that it wasn't being disloyal to Agnes' husband's memory for her to wish to get a little enjoyment out of life. Agnes' two faithful and trusted negro servants, Begonia (JoAnn Laman) and Nicodemus (Dave Smith) were continually getting into some sort of predicaments. To Henry Turner's family belonged Sammy (Morris Spees) and Doris (Marlene Miller).

Henry and Agnes met and were secretly married. They at first told their families that they were engaged. This was all an attempt to break the news gently. Both families resented the situation immensely and tried to prevent a marriage--of course, to no avail. The situations arising out of these two 'ready made' families trying to take matters into their own hands form the plot of this play. Even Lydia becomes reconciled to the fact that Agnes loves another man and between the children a couple of romances develop.

The prompters were Marlene Foltz and Yuteve Kirchner; the stage managers, John Bayliff and Gordon Lowry; and sound effects, Bill Graham. The director was Mrs. Dupler.
